

Programme

Morning Session

10am Coffee

10:30 Welcome

The outcomes of the Urban Archaeological Strategy project (David McOmish, HE).

Research agendas and urban archaeology- which way forward? (Dan Miles HE)

11.30

Managing the urban archaeology of Edinburgh (John Lawson, City of Edinburgh)

Managing the urban archaeology of Ipswich (Abby Antrobus, Suffolk Council)

12:30-13:30 Lunch (provided)

Afternoon Session

13:30

Roman London: the challenges of big data (title tbc) (Dominic Perring, Archaeology South-East)

Anglo-Saxon urban archaeology; does the concept make sense? (John Blair, Oxford University)

14:30-14:45 Tea and Coffee

14:45

The Challenges of synthesising urban data (Nigel Baker, nigelbakerarchaeology.com)

Recent research into medieval towns (Ben Jervis, Cardiff University)

15:45-16:00

What Next?

URBAN ARCHAEOLOGY IN THE UK

A new training event organised by the Urban Committee from the Association of Local Government Archaeological Officers will look at the experiences and issues facing current archaeological practice in the urban environment.

Event Date: 10am-4pm 15th November 2018

Event Location: Birmingham and Midland Institute, Birmingham

Attendance Fee: £50/place

To book, please contact admin@algao.org.uk